Classroom Shortage Next Fall May Send 100 Grayling Students To Frederic Elementary School

by Jon Thompson

About 100 Grayling Elementary students may be bussed to Frederic Elementary School next fall because of a shortage of classroom space at Grayling.

This year one fifth grade class at Grayling was moved to Frederic because all 20 classrooms and three portables at Grayling Elementary were filled. The school board is now considering options for next year to send about 100 students from the Grayling attendance area to Frederic to alleviate overcrowding.

Superintendent Kent Reynolds said enrollment projections indicate if all elementary students went to the school in their attendance area, the Grayling Elementary would be short one classroom, Frederic Elementary would have four empty classrooms, and Grayling classrooms would have as many as 30 students while Frederic classrooms would have as few as 18 students.

Reynolds said if the extra Frederic classrooms are used next year, then the school district could use the three musky, leaky portables at Grayling Elementary for storage instead of classrooms.

The school board will probably decide at a

May 23rd special meeting which of three options they'll want to try. One option is to just move one Grayling classroom to Frederic and continue using the portable classrooms at Grayling.

Another option is to move three fifth-grade classes, one special education section, four second-grade students, and five third-grade students. This would fill each school without using a portable. One drawback is about half the students at Frederic would be fifth-graders.

Another option is to move a third, fourth, and fifth-grade class and one special education section to Frederic. This option would fill both schools without using portables and classroom sizes between the schools would be more equal. Plus, there would be two classes of third, fourth, and fifth grades at Frederic creating more flexibility in staffing and alternatives for students.

Two years ago, Frederic Elementary was closed and all the students were housed in Grayling Elementary overcrowding every classroom. A couple years before, more than 100 Grayling students were bussed to Frederic Elementary to solve overcrowding at Grayling.

District Health Offering Two New Classes to County

The Crawford County Health Dept. will be conducting two new classes for county residents dealing with infant health & parenting.

An early pregnancy workshop sponsored by the Infant Health Initiative state program is scheduled for Monday, June 13, 9 a.m. to Noon at the county courthouse. Topics for pregnant ladies and others interested include nutrition, alcohol and smoking during pregnancy, exercises, and relaxing techniques.

The program is part of a state program looking into northern Michigan's high infant mortality rate.

The second new program beginning with the county health dept. is a series of parenting classes. Classes will be taught by Carol McCarty, Pediatric Nurse Practitioner, starting May 27 and continuing eight weeks.

The parenting classes, certified by the Red Cross, will be taught in the county courthouse from 10 a.m. to Noon. Topics include nutrition, safety, language, personality, plus social and emotional development.

Persons can sign up for both classes by calling the Crawford Co. Health Dept. 348-2841 ext. 258.

Golnick Rolls 300 Game Sunday

The pins fell Jim Golnick's way Sunday in Harrison during a tournament as he bowled a perfect 300 game for the first time in his life.

Golnick, whose previous best was a 256 on the tough Grayling lanes, said he was under pressure at the end as everyone in the place knew he was going for a 300.

"I don't know why I got the 300 game Sunday," he said. "I guess you could call it luck."

Luck or plain good bowling, Golnick - who averaged 180 in the Grayling league last winter - averaged more than 200 a game rolling nine games in the tournament Sunday for a 1851 total.

19,000 Guards Expected To Train Here This Year

by Jon Thompson

Approximately 19,000 national guard troops are expected to train this summer at Camp Grayling.

The first large encampment will be from June 11 to 25 when an estimated 6,000 Indiana guards are scheduled to train.

An Ohio group led by the 16th Engineering unit will train from July 9-23 with 2,100 guards expected for those two weeks. Another Ohio group of about 3,500 comprised of Command Control units and the 107th A.C.R. will train from July 23 to August 6.

The largest group of guards expected this summer will be 7,000 Michigan troops from August 6 to 20.

A small Kentucky group of 250 military personnel will train from August 20 to September 3.

Careful Residents Help Pass Through High Fire-Danger Days

Crawford County passed through three very high fire-danger days last week, Wednesday to Friday, with only one small fire breaking out.

Duane Brooks, DNR forest fire fighter, said all leave passes were cancelled during the high danger days and everyone was working. The second week in May has traditionally been the worst period for forest fires in the county. Warm spring weather has dried out the fine fuels - leaves and grasses - and most of the woods haven't greened up yet.

See Fire on Page 9

The total number of guards expected this summer is down from a record amount of 31,000 in 1982 but nearly the same as 1981 totals.

Other small military units, including Air Force Reserves and regular Army troops, also train at the camp throughout the year.

Bradford Lake Property Owners Miss Special Assessment Taxes Once, But Not 2nd Time Around

by Jon Thompson

Approximately nine Bradford Lake property owners will have to pay double special assessment taxes this December because Maple Forest Twp. forgot to levy the special assessment tax last year.

The special assessment is to pay for a dam built on the lake's outlet to control water level. The property owners around the lake - located in both Otsego and Crawford counties - are supposed to pay the special assessment from 1979 - 1985.

Last year however, Maple Forest Township forgot to put the extra assessment on the property owners on the southern tip of the lake located in Crawford County. The Otsego County property owners around the lake were assessed by Otsego Lake Twp.

Crawford County Treasurer Joe Wakeley caught the error when checking taxrolls, but correcting the mistake hasn't been easy. At first, the county wanted to simply send a supplementary billing to the property owners right away for last year's special assessment taxes. The state said no-no, however, because it would be illegal. The county had already approved all the millages and special assessments on the tax rolls for last year.

So, this December, Maple Forest Twp. will probably ask the taxpayers to pay for two year's of special assessments - a total of $7,600 spread over eight or nine pieces of property. One property owner with two big lots will be hit with a $2000 special assessment bill.

8th Annual Kirtland's Warbler Day Slated for May 21 at KCC

The eighth annual Kirtland's Warbler Day featuring tours to nesting areas will be held May 21 at Kirtland Community College.

Car tours to nesting areas will start at 9 a.m. conducted by Jerry Weinrich from the DNR. Lunch will be served at the KCC student center compliments of the Kirtland Audubon chapter and the college.

A report of the progress of the Kirtland's Warbler Recovery Team will be given following lunch and the annual meeting of the Kirtland Audubon chapter will be held afterwards.

The yearly survey of singing males showed an 11 percent drop in population last year for the rare songbird. The bird's only breeding location is found in northern lower Michigan among young jackpine stands.

Last year census workers estimated 414 birds returned from their winter trip to the Bahamas. Most of the birds counted last year were located in Oscoda, Crawford, and Ogemaw counties. One male was reported in the Upper Peninsula near Gwinn.

A program was started in 1971 to help save the small birds from extinction. One of the Kirtland's warbler problems is loss of prime habitat. The bird likes to nest in young jackpine trees - a species that thrives after forest fires. Modern forest fire fighting has greatly reduced the number of acres burned and the DNR and U.S. States Forest Service are using control burns as one way to insure enough habitat for the special birds.

From Our Corner...

The trials and tribulations of friend R.J. seems like R.J. can keep out of the limelight for just so long and then there he is front and center...we received an anonymous phone call Saturday afternoon from a person that said he was a friend of R.J.'s and just wondered if we happened to know how come he got his home at the lake cleaned up so fast over the weekend...we were in the dark so we inquired around and found out that some time ago R.J. was in Ohio and visited the Doctor Dosch's family there and with all their kindness to him, R.J. offered his place for them to stay if they were ever in Grayling...the tale goes that the Dosch clan did come to Grayling, something like 20 strong to attend a wedding and they reminded R.J. that they had to get out of the motel they were staying at and would welcome his hospitality for Saturday night, so in a panic he rushed home, knowing that the house was a bit untidy and commenced to clean it from up stairs down...when he finished he felt he had did a masterpiece of cleaning only to find out that the whole thing was a hoax, and the Dosch's didn't plan on staying there in the first place...R.J. felt it turned out for the best, at least his house got a cleaning, and the moral of the story is, if you make rash promises, don't get caught with your britches down...

The Orioles are back in Northern Michigan, and to us they are more fun to watch than any other birds...all you have to do is feed them oranges to keep them around...slice an orange in half and put it on a bench or picnic table and set back and watch them come in to drink, or store it for their young as they fly back to their nests...it is quite a sight in our back yard, we watch the robins hunt for worms for their young and at the same time watch the oriole drink the orange juice...we may be nuts, but we enjoy just sitting and watching...

After reading the above, we're sure our readers realize it doesn't take much to amuse the ol' fella these days...now that we are living such a straight and narrow life it sometimes scares us...we never thought we could be so pure, like living up to the doctors orders...we have been asked and told so many times that we appear to be wasting away to a shadow...we still haven't matched our weight when we went into the service in '42, and at that time we could stand under a clothesline and be in the shade...the above testimonial was for Dr. B, we want him to know we are still being good and we don't have to go back and see him for a couple months...

This takes care of this week's efforts...good-night T.J., Stefany and Amber, and to all of our readers have a nice weekend, we're giving Rena a break on our column this week...

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

A PERFECT CITIZEN
Romans 13:8-10

Just as Romans 13:1-7 taught us our responsibility as citizens to our government leaders, even so, Romans 13:8-10 teaches us how to treat other citizens around us.

The first principle requires us to love all citizens: "Owe no man anything, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law." Romans 13:8. Jesus called this the 2nd greatest commandment: "And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself." Matthew 22:39. Perhaps the golden rule states it in a very practical way: "Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets." Matthew 7:12.

Following this positive command to love is a list of negative commandments to follow: "For this, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself." Romans 13:9.

1. Respect for man's home. "Thou shalt not commit adultery." In America where sex has become a god to worship, adultery is no longer considered a civil crime against society or a moral sin against God. Adultery has wrecked more homes, destroyed more lives and ruined more children than any other sin.

2. Respect for man's life. "Thou shalt not kill." To take a human life is the least amount of love you can show toward an individual. When you rob a person of life, you rob him of all other earthly blessings as well. The streets of our nation are no longer safe because of disrespect for human life.

3. Respect for man's property. "Thou shalt not steal." In a materialistic society, this type of crime is considered one of the worst.

It is interesting that in America with the highest standard of living in the world, stealing is a major problem.

4. Respect for man's honor or integrity. "Thou shalt not bear false witness." A lie may enter the mind and heart of a good person and change their thinking and conduct. Therefore, a good person is believing and practicing a lie. It is a terrible sin to tell a lie which will so change the thinking and behavior of a good person. Satan is the father of lies.

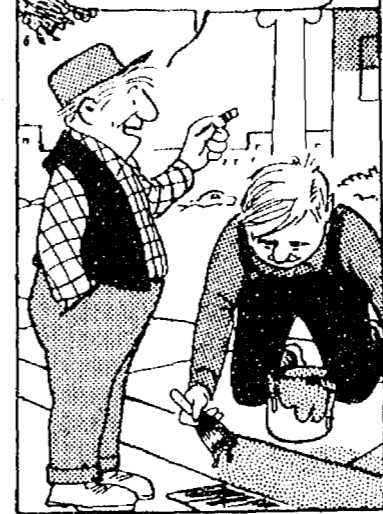

5. Respect for man's blessings. "Thou shalt not covet." This is jealousy over God's blessing upon others. This is the sin of the heart which leads to the sinful acts listed above.

Citizens who live by love need not worry about breaking the above commandments: "Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law." Romans 13:10. (adv.)

All About Owning A Horse (Or Most of It)

By: Sigrid Schramm
 Meadowview Ranch

Every year about this time school lets out, parents find themselves faced with the question by their children: "Can I have a horse?"

Here are some important facts to consider about owning a horse: 1. Cost of the animal and the tack you will need. 2. A place to keep it. 3. Cost of owning a horse, which includes cost of feed, veterinary and farrier expenses.

Speaking from experience, here are the typical costs you can expect to encounter: 1. Cost of the horse - You can expect to pay from $300.00 for a grade (unregistered animal) to $800.00 and up for a registered horse.

2. Cost of housing the animal - If you must board your horse, the cost will average from $75.00 - $125.00. This provides your horse with a stall, feed and daily care by the stable owner. If you keep your horse on your own property, you should provide the animal with a minimum of a run-in shed to keep it out of the worst weather and the summer heat. The cost of feeding would depend on the availability of hay in your area. You can expect to pay $1.25 to $2.00 for a bale of hay. Grain normally runs from $7.00 to $10.00 per 100 lbs. - A horse that is kept outside, especially during the winter months requires a minimum of 5-6 lbs. of grain in addition to approx. 15-20 lbs. of hay per day. This will keep your horse in good condition during the winter months.

During the summer months, too many horse owners feel that a horse can survive on grass alone. This is only partly true. Unless you have a 2-3 acre well established pasture, one horse can keep the pasture down to the point where during a dry spell or toward the end of the summer there is not enough food left to maintain the animal. You should plan on supplemental feeding.

3. Tack - such as a saddle, bridle, etc. - new equipment can be purchased for as little as $250.00 up to $800.00 or more. (Cost conscious owners may want to check into used tack).

Now that you have a list of your food and shelter requirements, there is the all important issue of vaccinating your horse against certain diseases. This is one issue often overlooked or neglected by many horse owners. The most common diseases to vaccinate against are EWE, Flu and Tetanus. In addition, you may want to vaccinate against Rhinopneumonitis. (Here is a reminder to all horse owners - be sure to have yourself vaccinated against Tetanus). - Cost of shots which includes the vet's charge to come to your home or farm is approx. $35.00 - $45.00 for the call itself, and $8 to $10 per shot. The EWE, Flu and Tetanus shot are a combination shot and count as one shot when you order it from the Vet. Here again, if you are cost conscious, you can learn to give your own shots.

Last but not least, your horse should be wormed against parasites, which if left untreated, can be deadly. Paste wormers are available and easy to administer. I feel a minimum of once every 3 months is necessary to keep parasites in check.

Now that you have some ammunition to face your children's question about owning a horse, do not forget that owning a horse also provides pleasures. It builds physical coordination and develops responsibilities in your child. However, if you have any doubts about owning a horse, do not buy one, - already too many horses stand around, forgotten in someones backyard or pasture after the initial enjoyment wore off. Most of them are neglected with barely enough food to stay alive. So for the horse's sake, think before you act.

The New Dream

By Rev. Thomas A. Bruno Minister of
The Congregational Church
Roscommon

I would not suggest honesty as a policy because I believe that it is a virtue. I do suggest that if you are not honest, your dishonesty will find you out. Dishonesty has always been difficult to hide.

Take for example the other day when I was visiting at the hospital in Traverse City. The first thing I did was to stop at the information desk to ask the receptionist what room a particular patient was in. As I did I noticed "The National Enquirer" sitting on her desk and I picked it up. An article about Grace Kelly's death caught my attention. I wanted to see what it said.

The woman behind the desk knew that I was a minister because she had asked me. She seemed embarrassed by the paper and volunteered that she never read such garbage. I told her that I occasionally read "The Enquirer."

I thumbed through the paper and came to the story on Princess Grace. My amazement at what I read was obvious because I said that I never realized that fact about her life. Before I finished my statement, the woman behind the desk interrupted and said, "Yes, and that affair had been going on for years!"

The next page had an interesting article on Burt Reynolds. Again, I was surprised by what I read and said so. The receptionist said, "If you think that is something, wait until you get to the end."

Dolly Parton is one of my favorite singers so when I saw her picture, I immediately started to read the article under the photograph. I finished the article, set it down and decided it was time to do what I came to Traverse City for, to visit one of my sick friends from the church. As I headed away from the desk, the woman behind it had a parting comment, "Wasn't that something about Dolly?"

No longer could I hold back what I was thinking, "I thought you didn't read such Garbage!" Only two words got out of my mouth and the woman looked at me and realized what was coming. Her face suddenly looked like a cat who just got caught swallowing the family goldfish. I didn't finish the sentence; I didn't have to. SHE GOT THE MESSAGE.

I did not care whether she read "The Enquirer" or not, but honesty...that's another thing!!

Economic Proposals Offered By House Republicans

Warren M. Hoyt, Executive Director, MPA

A list of 38 economic development proposals, ranging from repealing Michigan's prevailing wage law to further reforms in both workers' and unemployment compensation, was recently unveiled by House Republicans.

House Republican Leader Michael Busch of Saginaw and Paul Hillemonds of Holland said the measures are aimed both at aiding existing businesses that remain in Michigan and promoting job development.

The Republican proposals came just prior to Governor Blanchard's economic development plan.

A particularly high priority for Republicans would be continued improvements in workers' compensation and unemployment compensation. While costs have been reduced in those areas, Hillemonds said, employers still point to those two areas as being detrimental to economic development.

The 38 proposals are divided into three areas: regulatory reform, reducing business costs and job development.

Items under regulatory reform include repealing the prevailing wage laws, mandating the state to purchase items from producers instead of producing those items itself, reimbursing businesses for the cost of legal defense "against clearly wrongful regulatory actions."

Repealing the prevailing wage law could be particularly important as the governor is expected to initiate a public works program using bonding funds, Hillemonds said.

The current prevailing wage statute could reduce the number of jobs available in a public works program by as much as 40 percent, he added.

Along with the workers' and unemployment comp improvements, other proposals to reduce business costs include supporting limits on medical malpractice claims, increases in the small claims court limit to $1,200 and energy cost proposals which are not "a barrier to business locating in Michigan."

In their jobs development section, the Republicans call for improvements in job training at local schools and community colleges, expanding instructional posts in engineering and sciences and joint efforts with other Great Lakes states to prevent expropriation of fresh water from the lakes.

The Republicans also urged continuing some programs already in effect, such as the target industries and small business development programs in the Department of Commerce.

Nuclear Waste Transport Restriction

Michigan and other states that ban or limit the transport of nuclear wastes must defend their regulations in an effort to force tougher federal regulations regarding nuclear safety, a New York researcher told legislative subcommittees.

A backlog of nuclear waste is building up and will have to be shipped at some point, Marvin Resnikoff, project director at the Council on Economic Priorities, said.

The state's current regulations forbidding shipment through Michigan are being challenged by nuclear waste shippers before the federal Department of Transportation.

But if Michigan and those other states that limit transport fight those efforts and fight for tougher rules regarding nuclear waste safety, then new rules may be drafted, Resnikoff said.

Michigan bans transport because federal rules on casks that would hold the waste are not stringent enough. A Canadian laboratory has been attempting to ship nuclear wastes through Michigan to a disposal site in South Carolina, but has been blocked by the state law.

Old accounts of the exploration and settlement of this Country and especially the northern forest seldom mention insect pests. There is frequent mention of danger from inclement weather, lack of game when it was sorely needed for food, and danger from Indians and wild animals. Maybe times have changed or maybe our ancestors just suffered in silence. People who in more modern times have taken to the woods report that it was the bloodsucking insects which came the closest to driving them back to civilization. Bears, moose, mice, bats and porcupines were an annoyance, and sometimes required drastic counter-measures, but it was the blackflies and no-seeums which made life nearly unbearable.

For any newcomers to our beloved northland, let me warn you about both of the above pests. Blackflies are small, and they have a nasty habit of crawling up sleeves and pants and down necks to bite. Usually you do not feel the bite until the blood begins to flow from the bite, after which the area swells and itches. Some people are so poisoned by blackflies that they puff up all over. So you will not feel quite so badly, even the wild animals are bothered extensively too. No-seeums are as small as pepper dust and burn a hundred times worse. It is difficult to understand how such a minute creature can cause such pain. Some people react to the bites of no-seeums the way they react to mosquito bites. Having screens on the windows will not help, as the mesh is like a freeway underpass to a no-seeum. There is one consolation; it is possible to build up an immunity, but it may take ten years. So endure and welcome to the north country.

Notice of Finding of No Significant Impact

An Environmental Assessment (EA) has been prepared for the Rehabilitation/Phased Construction at Camp Grayling Training Site located at Camp Grayling, Michigan.

Based upon this EA, a Finding of No Significant Impact (FNSI) has been prepared which summarizes the proposal and set forth the reasons why an environmental impact assessment will not be prepared.

The public is invited to review and comment on both the EA and the FNSI. These documents may be reviewed at: BUILDING 11 — CAMP GRAYLING — GRAYLING, MI 49738.

Also, a limited number of the documents are available for mailing to interested persons by writing to the: Engineering & Facilities Division at 2500 South Washington, Avenue, Lansing, MI 48913, or calling (517) 483-9645.

Written, substantive comments received at the above address within 14 days of the published notice will be made a part of the EA.

Approved for Release: Arthur N. Phillips
Brigadier General
Acting The Adjutant General
State of Michigan

Finding of No Significant Impact Rehabilitation/Phased Construction at Camp Grayling Training Site, Michigan.

A. Description of Proposed Action and Alternatives:

The Camp Grayling Training Site has been sized as a 6,500-person high concentration training site. The proposed phased construction will enable the existing area to support current training requirements of the MIANRG. Camp Grayling is the nucleus for training conducted by units of the National Guard, Active Army, Army Reserves, and Marine Reserves of the surrounding states as well as supporting the training requirements of the Canadian Militia.

The assessment examined alternatives to the proposed action. No action is infeasible in that the existing structures are not adequate for the Camp's current logistical support operations/mission. No other installations within the area served can feasibly support the unit's mission.

B. Potential Environmental Impacts:

The analysis of potential environmental impacts is documented in an environmental assessment (EA) entitled "Rehabilitation/Phased Construction at Camp Grayling Training Site."

Construction: Normal construction techniques would be employed at the site, including proper erosion control techniques, to minimize any short-term impacts. Noise impacts during construction would be short term and not propagate far off-site. Air pollution during construction will be minimized by the installation of vapor emission control devices and site watering to control fugitive dust, if required. If threatened plant species are encountered during construction, the sites will be protected pending consultation with Department of Natural Resources personnel. A short-term economic benefit during construction would be realized in that employment for the local population would be available.

The proposed rehabilitation/phased construction projects would enhance operations at the existing site. No significant increase in operations is expected, therefore no adverse impacts on existing resources are anticipated.

Regulatory: There are no indications that implementing this proposal would violate any Federal, State, or local environmental laws or regulations.

Finding of No Significant Impact (FNSI)

A careful review of the environmental assessment has concluded that the proposed rehabilitation/phased construction at Camp Grayling Training Site will not have a significant impact on the quality of the natural or human environment. The requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) have been satisfied and an Environmental Impact Assessment (EIS) will not be prepared.

The public is invited to review and comment on both the EA and the FNSI. All written, substantive comments received within 14 days of the published notice will be made a part of the EA.

Outstanding "Senior Citizen" Nomination

Howard Schmidt
I am nominating Howard Schmidt for the Outstanding Senior Citizen of the year. Howard was born here and he and his wife Eloise have lived in Grayling most of their married lives. Howard is a very active 72 year old. He helps with our satellites by driving, and lifting our heavy boxes of food and setting up for our dinners. Howard also is a friendly visitor. He visits Seniors in our Community, takes them for rides, shopping, fishing or just plain visits with them. He is also in our Choral Group and when needed takes over leading the group. Howard has a heart of gold and willing to do whatever is asked of him and he always has a cheery song.

Agnes Nelson

Nick Shuraleff
We are nominating Nick Shuraleff for the 1983 Outstanding Senior Citizen of the year. We feel that he has put in many hours of volunteer work and deserves this honor. He has been active as an officer in AARP for 7 years, taught swimming and led the stag card parties for at least 5 years, and he chose the music at the dance for 5½ years. He has been helpful with the Recreation Dept. for Hanson Hills, and is a professional in this dept., and in swimming. We want him to know that we Seniors appreciate everything he's done to add to the quality of life for us, and the community.

Sincerely,
Marty & Betty Bohm

Pitching Wins 3 Wins for Grayling

Dave Brooks, Marty Harris, and Ken Lademan each picked up wins with good hurling performances last week as Grayling swept Onaway in a doubleheader and split with Cheboygan.

Brooks went the distance in a 10-1 cakewalk against Onaway May 9 in the seventh-inning first game. Grayling bats put the game out of reach early batting around the order once. Mike Hickey walked, Jim Stewart, Monte D'Amour, Brooks, Jim Hill, Lademan, and Hickey singled and Jeff Branch added a doubled as Grayling collected six runs.

Grayling scored two more in the third as Hill reached base on an error, Branch singled, and Rusty DeHart hit a sacrifice RBI flyball. In the fourth a Stewart single, D'Amour walk, Brooks RBI ground out, and Hill single brought in two more runs.

In the second game, Grayling hung on to win 6-5 as Harris got out of a bases-loaded jam in the bottom of the fifth inning - the final inning.

Grayling again jumped all over Onaway pitching in the first scoring four runs. Jon Nicholas, Hickey, and D'Amour singled, Stewart walked, and Brooks and Hill had RBI sacrifices.

Hickey scored again in the second reaching base on a walk, he stole second and third before Stewart drove him in with a ground-out. Nicholas scored the winning run in the fourth reaching base on an error and stealing second and third. A bunt by Hickey brought him home.

In the first game against Cheboygan, head coach Fred Wolcott said it was one of those days. Grayling was hitting everything hard but right at someone. Cheboygan, on the other hand, was reaching base on hits off the end of the bat or the handle - everything was dropping in. Cheboygan broke open a tight 6-5 game in the sixth when they sent 11 batters to the plate and not one made an out. The game was called on the ten-run rule.

Cheboygan ran out of luck in the second game as Lademan pitched a perfect game for five innings striking out nine.

Hickey started the scoring coming home after he walked on a single from Stewart. In the second inning Branch reached base on an error and Nicholas and Dan LaDuke singled. In the third Stewart singled, D'Amour was safe on an error, and Branch singled. In the fourth LaDuke singled, Morford was safe on a fielder's choice, and Hickey and Stewart sacrificed.

Grayling was rained out Saturday at home against Cheboygan leading 1-0. Their overall record stands at 5-6-1 heading into a Monday contest against Sault Ste. Marie. Thursday they play Gaylord away and Monday they travel to Petoskey. Tuesday they face Rogers City at home.

Fire

Brooks said cooperation from people with burning has been good overall in the county and is one of the main reasons no serious fires occurred during the first dangerous fire period this year.

The DNR handled four fires last week - two coming back to back May 10. One acre near Seven Mile burned as a result of sparks from incineration escaping. Three-tenths of an acre burned just east of Grayling on M-72 as a result of debris burning.

The fire reported during the very high fire danger days was a one acre fire along Stephan Bridge Rd. by Steckert Bridge. Grass and underbrush was burned after a fire started by children playing with matches broke loose.

Another grass fire burning two acres occurred Sunday at the Grayling airport and was caused by a military flare. Three DNR units put out the blaze which burned by the runways and produced a lot of smoke.

Carnation Community Service Award

by Sherry Haag, Dir.
The Carnation Community Service Award will be presented May 20, at the Retired Senior Volunteer Program 10th Annual Recognition Dinner. The award, donated by the Carnation Company, honors a group that gives generously of themselves for the benefit of the community and to aid welfare causes. A further objective is to direct public attention to the importance of volunteer activity.

The engraved Paul Revere design silver bowl, along with a citation, will be presented to a non-profit organization which is an RSVP station. The selection of the recipient of the 1983 award was made by the Retired Senior Volunteer Program Advisory Council at their March 9, 1982 meeting.

Established in 1972 by the Carnation Company, the community award is now initiated throughout the United States. The award has been presented through RSVP to the Historical Society in 1975, Grayling Booster Club in 1968, Lions Club in 1977, The Grayling Business and Professional Women's Club in 1981, and The American Red Cross in 1982.

The May 20th RSVP Recognition Dinner honors all Retired Senior Volunteers and is in appreciation of their volunteer hours served in the community. All Retired Senior Volunteers who have served 30 hours or more are guests of RSVP. Dinner for all other guests is $5.50. The public is invited. Call 348-4341 or 348-8322 for more information or reservations.

Strolling Around Town

The Grayling Beautification Committee is still working on ways to make Grayling more attractive. The big Clean-up Fix-Up Day for Grayling is this Thursday, May 19, and I understand there are organizations who will be out in force to help in various places. We know many of the local residents are already in the process of cleaning up as we have seen more evidence of it this spring. My comment is that Grayling has never looked better. Not that it can't go much further, but there is a big improvement.

There are many things that have taken place over the winter and even last fall that were never mentioned. Bev Lowrie had a new lawn put in last fall thanks to some friends that worked very hard on it and the George Wolfs did some landscaping with shrubbery at their home on Ogemaw St. The Hair Station on Michigan had a new carved sign put up during the winter which looks very nice. On Maple St. Mr. Haydet and his helper, Don Given worked on his front yard and had a lot of new sidewalk put in. Further up Maple Street we noticed Toc Ockerman edging his sidewalk. It's amazing how fast the grass grows over the sidewalk and hides a foot or two of it. One one of our corners, Bill Borritt had a nice lawn and trees put in last fall, he Porritt had a nice lawn and trees put in last fall, he didn't live to enjoy it this spring, but a nice young couple from Flint have bought the home and I'm sure will take care of it.

To Observe Public Works Week May 22-28

National Public Works Week in the United States and Canada will be observed May 22-28. It is designed to create greater awareness among citizens of the importance of public works in their lives.

According to the American Public Works Assoc., the week is dedicated to the people who manage our water, sewer, transportation and refuse collection systems.

City Manager Jerry Morford said that the Grayling DPW includes snow removal, street maintenance, Park upkeep, cemetery maintenance, wells and sewer maintenance.

Morford said that the men who serve in the DPW are the unsung heroes in the city because they are called upon at all hours of the day or night to keep services functioning. He noted that on weekends too, they are frequently asked to perform emergency work.

The Crawford County Sheriff Dept. has a list of the employees that are on weekend call, Morford noted. When a city resident makes a telephone call to the sheriff department, they in turn alert the person on call, he said.

Morford said that the men who serve on the DPW are extremely loyal as evidenced by the length of time they have been with the city. He pointed out that six of them, Howard Moggo, Thomas Dunham, Don Sorenson, George McClellan, Eugene Poll and Robert Cinciala have a combined total of 101 years service on the DPW.

In addition to those mentioned, other men on the DPW staff include Harold Baker, Bruce Nielson, Steven CdeBaca and Robert Ahrens.

The National Public Works Assoc. in paying tribute to these men and all who serve in the capacity as DPW workers said, "The maintenance of our streets and roads, removal of snow and ice, the smooth functioning of public transportation, water, sewage, and refuse removal systems are easy to take for granted. During National Public Works Week let's remember the public works people who allow us to take these things for granted."

Grayling Mayor Sandy Thompson, in honor of the DPW has also proclaimed the week in Grayling as Public Works Week. In the proclamation he said, "The efficiency of the qualified and dedicated personnel who staff public works departments is materially influenced by the people's attitude and understanding of the importance of the work they perform."

Grayling Elementary School Ingvarsson Strikes Again

In Mrs. Ingvarsson's first grade class they've been working on Michigan and they saw a filmstrip on Michigan. They colored a map of Michigan. The classroom has maps hanging up all over. They also learned that the Indians discovered Michigan.

They always work in groups in reading. Some children are in level 4 going into level 5. Some others are in levels 2, 3, 4, and 5 and the ones we talked to are in "Helicopters and Ginger-breads."

In math class they're doing all the way up to hundreds (100's). Some people are getting math box awards. By now almost all the people are getting them. Thanks to Josh Wells and Troy Smith. They're the ones who helped us write this story. By Heather Willoughby and Suzanne Hamilton, 5th grade.

Learning About Nature

In Mrs. Nicholas' second grade they are learning about trees and flowers. They have found out how bark protects trees and how to tell how old trees are. They found out they need seeds and bulbs to have flowers, and that seeds travel through water and air.

They also made book-marks for their mothers for Mother's Day. By Susan Nelson and Heather Hutek, 5th grade.

Creative Cooking Without Meat

If you would like to learn the fine art of meatless-cookery to help reduce your intake of saturated fats, then the May 23-26 Classes at Camp AuSable, Grayling, MI. are for you.

Dr. Arthur Weaver, associate professor of surgery at Wayne State, and his associate John Swanson, M.P.H. health education specialist, are planning to hold the classes from 7:15 p.m. till 8:45 p.m. Their wives, Natalie Weaver and Sheryl Swanson, both certified cooking school instructors and skilled in the art of meatless cookery, will be teaching the classes.

Here's a week's opportunity to ask questions, gain first hand experience, and work side by side in the preparation of entrees, low cholesterol - low fat dishes, breads, and meal planning. The classes will avoid all pseudo-science, assures Dr. Weaver. The classes will be scientifically and nutritionally sound, he says.

"Meatless cooking can be delightfully delicious as well as nutritious. People are amazed when they discover how appetizing a vegetarian meal can be," says Mrs. Swanson. "You may add variety to your family menu by replacing some meat dishes with low cholesterol vegetarian entrees, and make meals more interesting by learning attractive ways to serve vegetables and salads." Further information and registration is available by calling: 348-8384 or 348-2255. A donation will be taken to cover expenses.

Antrim Halfway House To Serve Young Drinkers

A benefit dinner and dance to raise funds for a teenage alcoholic halfway house will be held June 4 at 5 p.m. at the Red Barn. Country star Wes McCoy will be featured and tickets are $12 a person.

The halfway house is being constructed in Antrim County by a non-profit organization and will serve northern Michigan and Crawford County's young problem drinkers.

Ellen Cole and her husband are the chief movers behind the project. She wants to be able to house 12-15

teenagers at a time while they learn about their drinking problem.

Currently there's only one other halfway house in the state for teenage problem drinkers located in Grand Rapids. Cole said the need for a house is present in the north. Antrim and Crawford counties alone might send three to five teenagers a month to the house. The state pays for housing of court-assigned teenagers, but Cole said the house will always try to have a couple of beds open for teenagers who have nowhere to go.

At the halfway house, located on 80 acres, Cole says, "The teenagers will be able to get away from the environment in which they were drinking. They will be surrounded by nature and receive counseling."

The dinner dance is one effort to raise the funds to complete the halfway house, which is partially constructed now from funds donated by Cole and her husband.
Other contributions or volunteer help are welcomed. Call 616/533-6220.

BALLOON DAY—Matt Cragg's balloon was found the same day they were launched. It was found at the airport and returned to the school. After it stopped raining it was released again. One was found on Beaver Island Road and returned. The balloon was found by Bea Patrick at 4:45 p.m. in the brush beside the AuSable River.

They got the idea of a balloon launch out of a level 6 reading book. The launch was at 2 p.m. The second grade has been doing this for about 5 years. The day of the balloon launch was wet and rainy. About 30 balloons were returned when Dial-A-Ride found the balloons. By Bobby Grudzien and Richard Barkway, 5th grade.

Chamber Chatter

By Joyce Kolka

The big news this week is, of course, the naming of the new Board Members of the Chamber. JoAnn Cox from the Holiday Inn; Paul Mesack, DVM, Grayling Hospital for Animals and Kathy Ashton of Spikes Keg O' Nails were the victors in a close race. The Chamber, its officers and Board are grateful for the response of members with their ballots and appreciative of the cooperation of those who ran in the election. Others who ran for the Board include: Jess Birtcher, A.J.D. Forest Products; Barry Fenn, Dentist; Everett Hoggard, AuSable Motel; Terry Weikert, Grayling Insurance.

Bill and Carolyn Boone of Grayling Water Wells and the new Hillside Farm are planning an open house for Saturday, May 21st. They suggest that parents bring the kids along for the festivities because there are lots of domestic animals to see and pet. As a matter of fact, they have informed us that a pair of geese have been named Joyce and Don in honor of the two of us who labor in the Chamber Vineyards. There must be some sort of message about that naming. Perhaps it reflects on our job of honking about the virtues of this area as a tourist spot. At any rate the nursery will feature potted plants, shrubs and herbs.

New developments on the Milltown Festival continue to be revealed as Randy Thompson, Chairman of the Rotary Club's Pre-race Committee told of plans to start the AuSable International Canoe Race off with a bang. Literally it will be a bang-up beginning because he has arranged for aerial bombs and other devices to be set off when the racers start the long trek. More additions to Milltown Festival are a Circus sponsored by the Knights of Columbus at Hanson Hills on Monday, Aug. 1st and the Tennis Tournament being chaired by Jon Thompson the first weekend of the festival at the High School.

A very important fund raiser for the Milltown Festival is certainly worth mentioning in this column. The local units of the Michigan National Guard are sponsoring a Roast Beef Dinner at the Armory at Camp Grayling. It should be pointed out that despite lots of volunteers working on the Milltown Festival, there are special events and functions that cost money. The Michigan Woodcutters Assoc. must have prize money to involve participants, bands must be fed and housed, prizes for other contestants and advertising must be obtained. The dinner will be held at the new armory beginning at 5 p.m. until 8 p.m. Cost for the affair will be $4 for adults and $2 for children. Tickets may be purchased from Chairman, Skip Hanson and the Chamber Office.

The Milltown Festival Fund Raising Committee is sponsoring a Bake Sale on May 28th and 29th at the Grayling Mini Mall and they are asking for donations of baked goods to benefit the festival. How about it gals and guys, let's get baking and donate to the Milltown Festival. Baked Goods may be brought to John's Hallmark Friday afternoon and evening or directly to the Mini Mall on Saturday or Sunday. Sherry Hanson and John Cherven are donating many hours to this project. Don't let them down.

On Thursday, May 12, the chamber board members, officers and staff held a day long workshop at Wyandotte Lodge at McMasters Bridge to plan the coming year's activities and budget. This has been an annual affair for the past three years where the board has devoted a full day to managing the chambers affairs for the year. Items covered included committee appointments, special events, advertising, budget formation, membership and new ideas for area promotion. Thank you Fred and Jean Roemer, for a lovely lunch and the use of your facility. It was a beautiful day.

Beginning next week the chamber will sponsor a short radio program on WKNX in Saginaw dealing with current happenings in recreation in this area. The program will be repeated twice on Wednesday and Thursday in an effort to attract people from the Saginaw, Bay City, Midland area. The program will be called in from the chamber office and recorded in the WKNX studios. In that connection the staff would appreciate any calls about current fishing conditions, outdoor recreation, special activities and any other developments that would attract people to the county.

Hopefully many of our readers saw the very nice feature on Channel 9 about Carlisle Canoe Paddles. Ralph Stevens did a very nice job of describing the company and of course promoting our area.

Don Geiss has had the opportunity to see the architectural plans for the new design of Weaver's Gifts storefront and side. He tells us that it is really a beautiful creation and one that will reflect pride in our community.

This week we wish to pay tribute to Ernie Dawson, who with his partner, Bob Cole, are the proprietors of Flowers By Josie. And what a beautiful shop it is! Ernie's successful term as President of the Chamber is ending this month, however, he will remain on the Board of Directors. It is difficult to put into words the beauty he has brought to our community. Much of the attractive decor of the holiday Inn can be attributed to him. He can also be indirectly credited for the murals that enhance the buildings in Grayling. He has continued over the years to chair many programs. What more can we say, Ernie, except a big "Thank You, we think you're great".

Here's one of those amazing pictures taken by our astronauts on the moon.

That's our Earth. Way out there! Seeing the world in such perspective, how small our problems seem—but how great our need for God's caring and concern.

This is the exciting message of religion: That the God who created a vast universe is concerned for every soul. That we can know Him in the outreach of our faith and serve Him in the bond of love. On this planet whirling through space we draw closer to Him and to one another as we gather each week in God's House.

Frederic High School Alumni Assoc.

Dear Frederic Graduates and Associate Members:
The Officer's of the Frederic Alumni Association have been holding a series of planning sessions for the annual Banquet to be held Saturday, June 25, 1983 at the American Legion Hall.
This is Election year so be thinking who'd you like for your new officers and committee.
At last years Banquet it was decided that anyone who had attended Frederic High could become an "Associate Member" and we welcome them to join us. The only restriction being that the Under Graduates will not be eligible for Office. Their membership card will read "Associate Member".

Dues of $2.50 per year are payable anytime between now and the Banquet. The Memorial Fund received 50 cents of the dues and is used to buy books in memory of deceased alumni members. To date 5 books have been donated to the Frederic Library. Helma Post is chairman of this committee.

To reduce mailing costs, the newsletter and Banquet reservations are being sent out in the same mailing, in mid-May in ample time for your reply. Dues payable at this time also.

Make all checks payable to: Frederic Alumni Assoc. P.O. Box 89, Frederic, Mich. 49733.

If you have any pictures, scrap books, yearbooks and other mementos bring them along as they can prove very entertaining.
